

Greensboro Style

Where Custom Meets Relationship

When Rich and Kathy Dumas started doing business in 1992, they knew they wanted to combine the two things they loved most: creating custom homes and building relationships. Since then, they have been building award-winning homes and leading the way with one-of-a-kind details like arched coffers, detailed trim-work, and hidden appliance zone pantries.

If you're looking for proof they're true custom builders, just walk through one of the 400 homes they have built over the last 25 years. It will be immediately clear that R & K has no trouble raising the bar and creating new trends.

Extremely committed to getting to know their clients and listening to their wants and needs, R & K gains the confidence and trust of their clients, and the beautiful results of those relationships are unique, custom-designed homes for each buyer. "Our clients feel like family from the moment they sit down to work with us," says Kathy. "They know they will be cared for long after they move into their new homes."

